Brief Report of Faculty and Students Training Program

“National Seminar on Emerging Trends in Entrepreneurship Research on 20th Feb 2021”

We will highlight how formal and informal institutions, evolving over time, impact entrepreneurship development, entrepreneurial skill, and contribution to social, regional, and national sectorial. We will explore how the corporate strategies, social policy, economics, Innovation and Technology and academic entrepreneurs by way of novel ideas and persistence influence changes institutions, which in turn enhance competitiveness at different levels. We believe these issues are relevant not only to countries with less experience in entrepreneurship policy, education, and practice but also to a vast majority of them across continents.

Outcomes:

Entrepreneurship research provides the cutting-edge knowledge and skills on how to successfully develop captivating products and services to solve challenging problems in a highly uncertain environment, often under considerable time constraints with very limited resources. The course basic aim is to teach students independent decision making, entrepreneurial thinking, working in teams, team leading and assumption of responsibilities in their role as organizers.

Social and Economical Impact

- AW bio refinery will give an opportunity to distressed farmers to get price for their produce which are otherwise discarded either due to climate change situation or rotten due to poor storage facility or damaged during transportation thus creating wealth from waste.
- The bio refinery facilitate production of import substitute chemicals like essential oil and pectin (from oranges) which India imports mainly from Brazil.
- Government wishes to double farmers' income and stabilize fruit and vegetable prices (Operation Green) and AW bio refinery is step in that direction
- Policy Compliance : Make in India , Swachh Bharat.
