Department of Geography has been organized one day online students' training on SPSS, Under the Aegis of RUSA. Now SPSS is mostly popular tools in research activity. SPSS reads through all your cases, performs the analysis, and presents you with the output as tables or graphs. Therefore our students know and how to use software in research activity. The trainer of this session was Dr. Sameer Butala from Sundarrao More College, Poladpur, District Raigad. He has excellent knowledge about the SPSS. The following objectives are fulfilled by the learners from this training programme.

Objectives

- 1) To learn the software BHUVAN
- 2) To understanding the application of SPSS in geography.

There were 80 students actively participated and learn how to use this software for testing of hypothesis. They make practice and properly use various step and use of application in future research. As per as evaluation of feedback is concern, all students are able to understand steps of BHUVAN and SPSS and achieve the objectives and application and they really enjoy and agree with this program.
